

Trained & Ready

Four consumers from our Ithaca Day Habilitation Center successfully completed CPR/First Aid training last spring. According to course instructor and Day Hab Manager Kathy Marshall, they were a good working group.

“Several consumers expressed a desire to learn this material,” said Kathy. “I posted a sign-up sheet, and during the class, they were very attentive. I could tell they were really listening and watching, trying to get it right. Of course, I held them to the same standards as anyone else, and they were required to learn all the skills taught in the class.”

At the end of the three-hour class, the students – Joe Gadwaw, Nicole Landendoerfer, Scott Agard, and Alexandria Feria – correctly demonstrated a variety of lifesaving skills and techniques to pass the course. Once satisfactorily completed, they received their CPR/First Aid certificate, valid for two years.
